

I am logged in, but cannot start the modules

As soon as you are logged in, you must first assign the module in the desired language using the 'Book' button. You can then start the module by clicking the 'Play' button.

If you do not see a 'Book' button, it is possible that you are using an outdated operating system version or an outdated browser. The learning platform is optimised for the latest versions of Windows and Mac. It is therefore possible that the learning platform does not function correctly or is not displayed correctly with outdated versions.
